

Elizabeth & Tony on a mission to give back

“The more you have, the more you can help others.”

Tony Kent and his wife, Elizabeth Rose, Ph.D. embody the term “super-achievers.” Tony was a Paris-based photographer for 25 years and traveled extensively while working with top magazines such as Vogue, Elle and Marie Claire. He relocated back to the United States 15 years ago when he became involved in the direct sales industry.

Meanwhile, Dr. Elizabeth Rose was a psychologist with a busy private practice in Iowa. Eventually the two of them met, married and now live in the San Francisco Bay area. Tony admits he “bounced around” from one direct sales company to another, but never really found one that was right for him – until he discovered TriVita.

“TriVita and I ‘clicked’ immediately,” Tony says. “I was thrilled to find a company whose principles were in alignment with mine. TriVita is also one of the few companies that openly embraces the importance of spirituality as an essential aspect of wellness. Our relationship with God and serving other people is the foundation of both of our lives.” The importance of spirituality also strongly resonates with Elizabeth. “I truly believe that a crucial part of healing is spirituality,” she agrees.

Huge results from Nopalea™

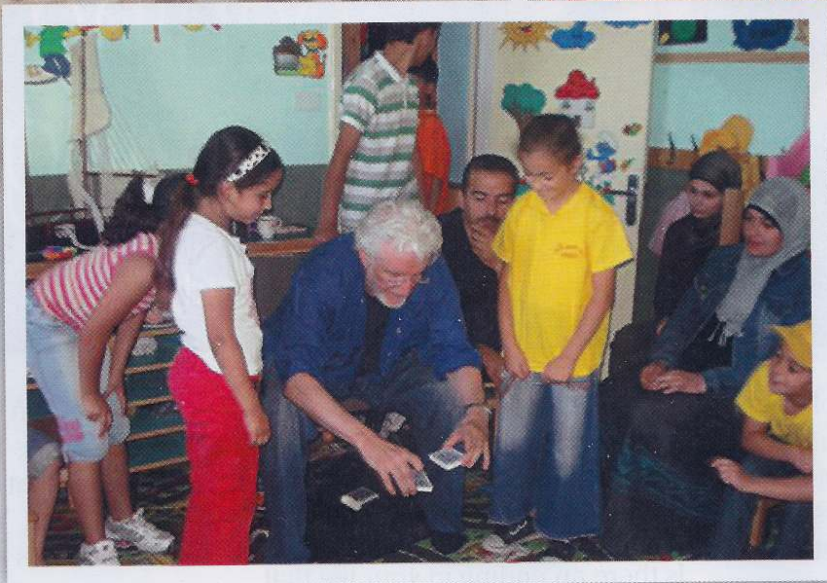

Tony and Elizabeth have enjoyed tremendous benefits from TriVita’s full array of products and readily recommend them to others. Nopalea especially has helped Tony. “I had a sore back that prevented me from working out,” he says. “Since I began drinking Nopalea, I’ve been able to exercise again, and I’ve even lost unwanted pounds.”

Elizabeth’s experience with Nopalea has been even more dramatic. She has a skin disorder caused by inflamed blood vessels that often makes her face look flushed. She also suffered from frequent pain and soreness, with burning, swelling and itching that accompanied the inflammation on her face. The redness and swelling were so noticeable that many people commented on it.

“This condition caused me great emotional pain,” she recalls. “As a psychologist, I work face-to-face with people and I need to look healthy if I’m going to help them find wellness.” She then tried Nopalea, which she calls a godsend. “I’ve seen such tremendous results with Nopalea – it’s like a miracle to me. I can even wear makeup for the first time in years.”

▲ School children on the playground of kindergarten in Jerusalem.

◀ Tony enjoying time with the school children in Jerusalem.

Now Elizabeth recommends Nopalea to many of her clients, always mindful that her professional reputation is at stake. She is totally confident that Nopalea's powerful formula can help many others with chronic inflammatory conditions.

Holy Land charity

Because of the success of Nopalea on their own health, they wanted to share it with others. The financial rewards from their TriVita businesses have also allowed them to focus on several charitable endeavors that are close to their hearts. "After all," Tony says, "the more you have, the more you can help others." They are actively involved with building and maintaining a new modern preschool and kindergarten for poor and orphaned children in East Jerusalem.

The financial needs to make this project a success are big, but the benefits are incalculable. "The children of East Jerusalem are severely underserved educationally and there is an enormous need to fill," Tony states. "We feel that we are helping to do something to substantially change this situation and make a real contribution to the future of peace in the Holy Land. We are also proud of the fact that the curriculum is modern and grounded in principles of peace and tolerance. In this way we hope to prepare a new generation to cultivate peace in the Holy Land."

Close to home needs

Both Tony and Elizabeth also regularly encounter people in crisis in their own community. "In these difficult economic times, people truly need hope," Tony emphasizes. "This is a hope that TriVita can fulfill. Imagine what it's like to be 60, laid off from your job and totally unsure about your future. When we explain TriVita's wonderful products and business opportunity, you feel the hope lighting up in people's hearts. That's what really motivates Elizabeth and me."

The world at their feet

Tony and Elizabeth are both thrilled about TriVita's international expansion, and are anxious to take the company's unique message around the globe. "We now have a tremendous opportunity to reach many millions, possibly even billions of people," says Tony. "God has blessed us to be able to share this gift of wellness throughout the world."

"TriVita has integrity and a spirit of compassion," Tony concludes. "Elizabeth and I truly feel that people can come to complete fruition at TriVita."* VJ

You should not stop taking any medication without first consulting your healthcare provider.*

There are no guarantees regarding income. Like any other business, success or failure depends on participants' own skills and effort.